Lori Ajax
Chief, Bureau of Cannabis Control
2920 Kilgore Rd.
Rancho Cordova, CA 95670

Dear Chief Ajax:

On behalf of the California Cannabis Industry Association (CCIA), I write to respectfully request that the physical addresses of cannabis licensees be immediately removed from the Bureau of Cannabis Control's (BCC) website.

While we are unified as an industry, a state, and a nation in overcoming social injustices through peaceful civil unrest, CCIA has learned that dozens of cannabis businesses across the state have been subjected to vandalism, looting and even violence over the past few days. Some of the attacks appear to be well-coordinated break-ins taking advantage of the civil protests and unrest that are occurring in many cities across the country.

With additional demonstrations anticipated this evening and possibly throughout the week, we respectfully request that the BCC make every effort to safeguard licensees from additional exposure to individuals targeting cannabis businesses. Such efforts include the prompt removal of the physical addresses of these licensees from the website.

I thank you for your attention to this request. Should you have any questions or need more information, please do not hesitate to contact CCIA's Legislative Advocate, Amy Jenkins, at (707) 291-3270 or amy@precisionadvocacy.co.

Respectfully,

LINDSAY ROBINSON
Executive Director
